FACULTY--Dealt information to note-taking students from 8:10 to 4:20, continued to serve as background for chapel programs by occupying seats on the platform. Toiled over doctors' dissertations while pupils wrote term papers. Maintained intellectual tone of faculty lectures, with Mr. Setterlund, Dr. Stenzel, Miss Barnett, Dr. Knowles reading papers. Counseled confused freshmen during registration week, journeyed overseas during summer vacation, and lectured at club meetings on what they had seen in Europe. After hours, graded papers, censored student publications, and played Chinese Checkers to pass away the time while chaperoning social events.

President Creighton Emphasizes Scholarship

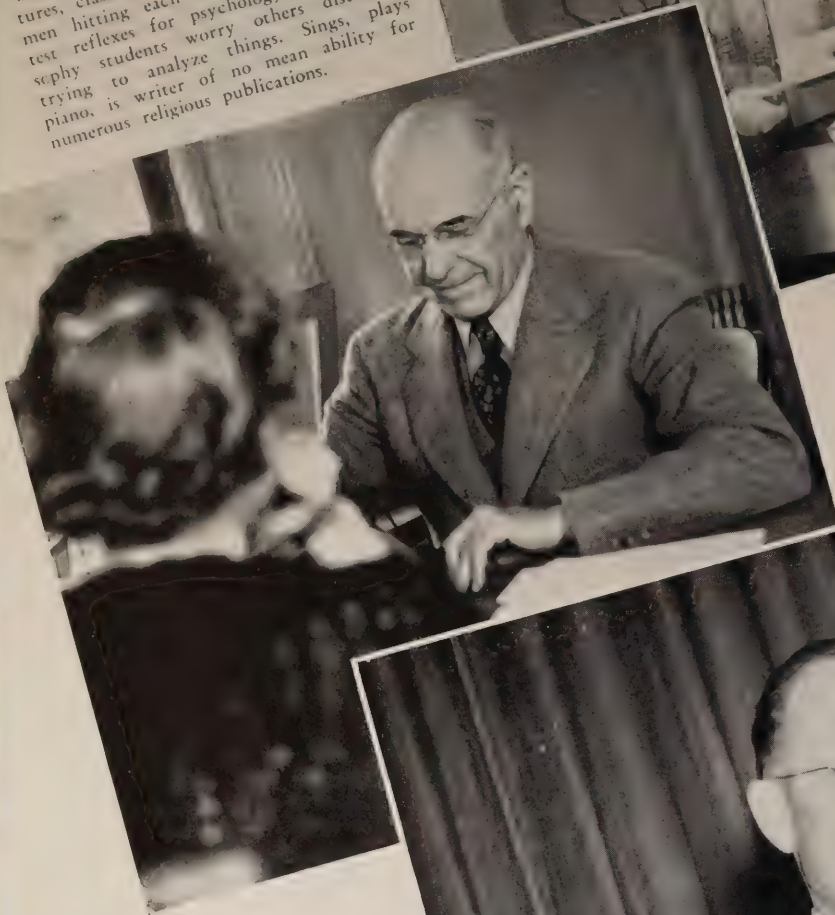

PRESIDENT J. W. CREIGHTON believes that character building is the most important task of education. Acting upon that belief he has laid renewed emphasis on high standards of scholarship and has fostered an extra-curricular programme designed to meet the needs of all students. He is in great demand as a speaker. His long experience as a Christian administrative leader in China gives him the right to speak with understanding on Far Eastern problems. Wherever he goes, he promotes the welfare of the college. Last year in Philadelphia he participated in the Sesquicentennial Anniversary of the Presbyterian Church in America. On the campus he officiates at all-college functions and has the last word in chapel. When off the campus, and not out of town looking after affairs for the college, he occasionally finds time to play golf. He combines business with pleasure as leader of Presbyterian summer conferences in Wyoming. IN-SET: WILLIAM SWARTZWELDER, special assistant to the President in the field of public relations. His vibrant speaking voice, short, to-the-point inspirational messages make him in great demand as a speaker. He is Dr. Creighton's right-hand man.

ETHEL TILLEY, PROFESSOR OF PHILOSOPHY AND PSYCHOLOGY AND DEAN OF WOMEN. Advises freshmen girls in lectures, classes, and office. Has upperclassmen hitting each other on the knee to test reflexes for psychology. Her philosophy students worry others distracted trying to analyze things. Sings, plays piano, is writer of no mean ability for numerous religious publications.

D. P. JONES, TREASURER AND BUSINESS MANAGER. Controls purse strings of institution, doles out college funds and NYA labor to industrious students. Is source of blue cards and Student Association tickets. Friendly smile, quiet encouragement help many timid frosh over first days of school.

F. E. WEYER, DEAN OF THE COLLEGE. Busiest man on campus. Between teaching full schedule of secondary education classes, advising students on "dean's team," directing the teachers' bureau, planning chapel programs and giving announcements, he is writing a doctor's dissertation on Nebraska. Is never too busy, however, to talk with perplexed students about campus problems or other troubles. Graduate of the college, he directs student affairs with interest, sagacity, and impartiality that pleases both students and faculty. Is encyclopedia on Hastings College traditions, happenings, and alumni.

HASTINGS COLLEGE LIBRARY is the scene of most diversified activities on campus, such as beginning of many tender romances, cramming for exams, whiling away of time, and actual studying. Has total of more than 27,000 volumes and 200 current periodicals. Monthly turnover volume averages 10,000 books. Two librarians and 24 student assistants keep peace and quiet for studious souls. INSERT: Desk on Monday morning after week end preceding exams is hidden under deluge of reserve books.

Within These Walls Infinitives Are Reunited

TOP ROW, left: RAYMOND E. BLOIS, INSTRUCTOR IN JOURNALISM AND ENGLISH. Noted for Boston accent, violin playing, and skill in solving crossword puzzles. Hobby is etymology . . . Center: JANET L. CARPENTER, PROFESSOR OF ENGLISH. Has New England sense of humor; droll remarks in class and thorough enjoyment of student themes make her courses among most popular in college. Too busy to have a hobby, unless it is the placement of wandering semicolons and commas . . . Right: MARGUERITE NESBIT and MRS. PERLE HUNTER VENNER, LIBRARIANS. Law enforcers of the zone of quiet. Can quiet prankish pupils with a few well-chosen whispered words. Will take time out to discuss books any time . . . CENTER ROW, left: EUNICE CHAPMAN, ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF ENGLISH. In addition to regular English teaching duties, is head of publications committee, advises both Collegian and Bronco with patience and skill. Kaps house with sister Rosie in a little ivory bungalow . . . Center: ELIZABETH BOWEN, ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR OF ENGLISH. Will vanquish any opponent who doesn't agree that Shakespeare is world's greatest poet, has guided many an English student through the beauties of the bard's writings. Is staunch Bronco supporter, hasn't missed a game in years . . . BOTTOM ROW: ENGLISH STUDENTS give the answers in Miss Bowen's literary types class.

Dexterous Digits Dissect Dead Dogfish

TOP ROW, left: JOHN M. MOULTON, ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR OF BIOLOGY. Probably born with dissecting set in one hand and tennis racket in the other. Gives pre-meds and student nurses thorough understanding of the earthworm and dogfish . . . Right: WILLIAM PFEIFFER, ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF RELIGION. Used to thrill persons with "De Glory Road"; now thrills them with Bible history, fulfilling lifelong ambition to teach religion . . . Below: LEROY T. LAASE, PROFESSOR OF SPEECH. Dynamic debate coach, re-elected national forensic vice-president, Father of five "Laases," guardian of 30 debaters . . . CENTER ROW, left: MATH STUDENTS learn equations and the theorems . . . Center: JOSEPH A. DREPS, ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR OF FRENCH AND SPANISH. Knows Europe like an open book. Loves to tell language clubs about chinaware collected in France and Spain last summer. Cold weather brings him out in yellow muffler, coonskin cap . . . Right: WYNETT BARNETT, ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF DRAMATICS. Demonstrates to classes the value of expression. Decrees when student actors may have haircuts while play is in production . . . BOTTOM ROW, center: JOACHIM A. STENZEL, INSTRUCTOR IN LATIN AND GREEK. Play viola in symphony. Is fast losing German accent, but not his distinctive hurrying walk . . . CLARA ALTMAN, PROFESSOR OF GERMAN. Advocate of democracy in the classroom, lets students choose what they'll study next. Noted for Thursday afternoon teas, background points.

Cutaneous Sensations and Social Science

TOP ROW, left: PSYCHOLOGY STUDENTS, under the direction of Dean Ethel Tilley, cross each other's palms with ice to test nerve centers . . . Center: MRS. BLANCHE A. DEAN, ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR OF HISTORY. Makes history live by telling interesting personal habits of Pericles, describing Gould-Fiske-Harriman financial tactics. Lets students report historical part of "Gone With the Wind" for extra credit . . . Right: MARGARET ISABEL KNOWLES, ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR OF HISTORY. Teaches history thoroughly from Cro-Magnon age to arms embargo of present time. Gave faculty lecture on British colonial policy in Malay. World Politics class one of largest in school . . . SECOND ROW, center:

DAVID DYKSTRA, ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR OF ECONOMICS. With explosive dynamic words shames economics students circling the proverbial bush in response to a question. Horn-rimmed glasses dangling under his chin, and the question, "What did the poet say?" are likely to startle freshman economists . . . Right: ELMER SETTERLUND, ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR OF SOCIOLOGY. Taught budding young sociologists about mores, folklores, customs. Left faculty second semester to re-enter the ministry . . . BOTTOM ROW: SOCIAL SCIENTISTS know the answers if they listen intently to the lecture by Miss Knowles and participate in the discussion afterwards.

Radio Tubes and Children Are Electrified

TOP ROW, left: HARRY R. JAMES, PROFESSOR OF PHYSICS. Explains to would-be physicists theories, principles of electricity, air-waves, and what not. Is boss of annually-sponsored, widely-attended Science Open House . . . Right: VERNON B. FLEHARTY, PROFESSOR OF CHEMISTRY. His students are responsible for the peculiar odors in McCormick. After working hours, takes to the open air for gardening . . . Below: ROBERT M. McDILL, PROFESSOR OF MATHEMATICS. Makes mathematicians and appreciators of science out of rattle-brained college students. One of the best loved men on campus; all who know him swear by him . . . CENTER ROW, left: EDUCATION STUDENTS learn by doing. Lorraine Ernst-meyer teaching little tots . . . Center: BLANCHE A. ALLER, ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF ELEMENTARY EDUCATION. Lectures to would-be primary teachers on the art of handling kindergartens skillfully. Her students direct weekly story hour at city library . . . Right: MRS. EDITH EPP, INSTRUCTOR IN MATHEMATICS. New to campus this year, graduate of Hastings College. Out-of-school interests are husband and baby . . . BOTTOM ROW, center: MRS. EVELYN CHAPMAN, INSTRUCTOR IN HOME ECONOMICS. Her coeds sew fine seams, design Parisian gowns for themselves . . . Right: ANGELINE WOOD, PROFESSOR OF HOME ECONOMICS. Is responsible for domesticated damsels on campus. Says there's nothing like a biscuit failure to dishearten coeds.

From Flying Reptile Hesperornis to Modern Art

year with "Mikado", demands near perfection and students will slave to get it for him. Is popular as critic judge at high school musical festivals throughout neighboring states . . . CENTER ROW. center: MRS. HELEN C. TILDEN, INSTRUCTOR IN ART. Guides faltering brushes of would-be student artists, directs numerous art exhibits on campus, assists with Science Open House. Is active in state art associations . . . Right: JOHN D. SCOTT, INSTRUCTOR IN VOICE. Sang way through college, was member of football, track, and swimming teams at University of New Mexico. Exercises dog around town when not taking flying lessons . . . BOTTOM: ART STUDENTS sketch Model Barbara Crouch in laboratory.

mortality rate of exam week and frosh initiations to zero. Throat examiner, blister bandager, aspirin peddler, her smile alone is enough to cure all ills . . . Center: Not too sick to eat, Elsie Peterson finds infirmary meals inviting and nourishing . . . Right: Tingling bones, skinned shins, sprained thumbs—they're nothing to these nurses who doctor, bandage, and take care of them with the greatest of ease. Infirmary with its scales is popular gathering place for dieting dormitory girls upstairs.

Left to right: MRS. MILDRED WRIGHT, ELSIE NEEDHAM, EMMA WATKINS and MRS. MARGUERITE HARRIS take care of college affairs in the business office, soothe quaking nerves of frosh undergoing first registration, and arrange financial matters pertaining to school. They guard inner sanctums of President's and Treasurer's office, issue Student Association tickets, as well as duplicates to forgetful students.

From Financing Students to Repairing Doorknobs

prospective students, extolls virtues of Hastings College. Cabinet of Progressives---Establish Traditions

STUDENTS' ASSOCIATION OFFICERS, Maree Brower, secretary; Robert Newell, president; and Warren Reeves, vice president, formed a cabinet of progressives who furthered the development of Hastings College traditions. They published the first New Students'

Guide, helped to inaugurate a policy of alumni dancing, improved facilities at Bellevue House, and made out a list of rules for same. They helped to reorganize dining hall procedure and included among their many innovations a junior-senior picnic.

STUDENT BODY settled down in September to routine of daily assignments, quizzes, term papers, and collateral reading. Rubbed elbows regularly at semi-weekly hour dances, celebrated Hallowe'en by depositing an Austin in the library. Saw Finnish War begin and end; heard Pacifist Kirby Page, Militarist Joe Smith on issues involved. Heaved sigh of relief when classmate Dick Marvel returned home safely from Germany, swelled with pride at "Smit-ty's" national Y. W. presidency, and laughed at Funny-Men Newell and Fisher in "Mikado." Enjoyed successful year with outstanding leadership, maintained traditional high scholastic standards, while I. Q. quizzes tickled frosh craniums, and occasional exam exemptions for A students pleased fortunate seniors.

Wins Honor for Constructive Citizenship

The Bronco Award Winner for 1940 is Robert Newell. He was chosen for the highest honor given by Hastings College because he best fulfills the ideals implied in the term, "constructive college citizenship." The award was based on his original and constructive achievements that are likely to be enduring in their effort. He was selected by a student-faculty committee elected by popular vote of the student body. In accordance with custom, his name will be engraved upon the Bronco Award cup. He has left Hastings College better than he found it.

played knowing you'd come from D.C. will guess you'll find women Don W.

MARGARET BREWSTER, below, oversees dining hall as student hostess, has one of highest scholastic averages on campus.

BILL HANSEN, below, possesses droll wit which makes him successful YM president, is politician, cheerleader, and member of Estes Co-op.

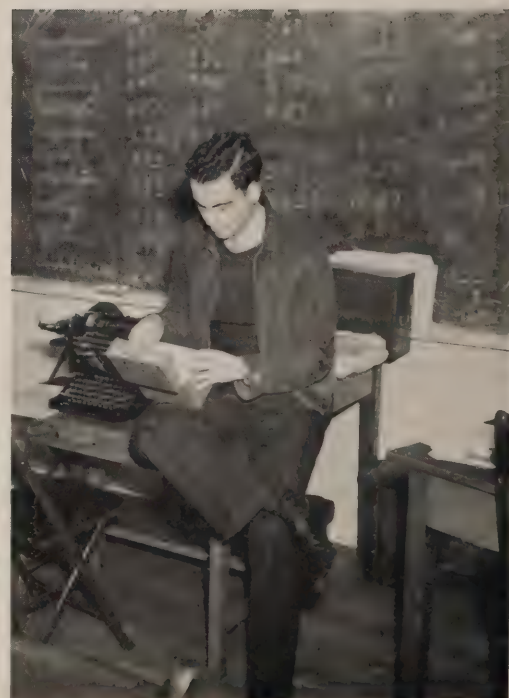

MAREE BROWER, above, posture queen, has beautiful smile, high scholastic average, and ability as leader.

TOM FUHR, above, can make even Shylock want to advertise in Collegian, aspires to ministry, is vitally interested in world affairs.

WARREN KUNKEL, left, pacifist with radical hair, is responsible for this book, is always late to meals, pitches hay and mounts game in summer.

DON McCLELLAND, right, can argue a person out of anything, assists in student promotion during summer, debates during winter.

Nationally

KENNETH MCINTYRE, below, is a blond punster and popular speaker at banquets and receptions, rides a green bicycle to work downtown.

Prominent

Included in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities in 1940

RICHARD MARVEL, upper left, is one of "higher-ups" (6 ft. 6 inches), plays champion basketball, has studied in Germany, is popular in Grand Island.

ROBERT NEWELL, right, acts foolish in "Mikado," does constructive thinking for college betterment, is a debater, scholar, and aspiring lawyer.

ELEANOR SMITH, left, is national YW president, visited Amsterdam conference last summer, is a clever punster and effective wielder of the tennis racket.

RUSSEL VAN DYKE, right, works for an ice cream company between debate tournaments and meetings; as dormitory mayor, disciplines Ringland Hall.

responsibility of planning the junior-senior picnic. The picture is typical of life in the lobby of the Taylor Hall dormitory, where students not only play chinker checks, but listen to radios, eat Sunday-night lunches, hold gossip sessions, and occasionally participate in oratorical contests.

Below: Freshmen are not the only ones who are seen piloting antiques of locomotion along the streets. These juniors were snapped while speeding by.

Above: With the coming of spring, warm sunshine, and balmy breezes, many persons can be seen lolling about and chatting of things in general, as this group is seemingly doing.

EXTRACURRICULAR activities included almost all students, as German and Spanish, formulas and syllogisms, eighth notes and deadlines continued to hold collegians' attention after school hours. Emphasized fair play and sportsmanship in an intensive intramural program for men, while Bronco major sportsmen added to their heap of laurels. Included as favorite program devices for club meetings lectures by members or specialists, discussions, movies, and demonstrations. Had one of its best years--amid feminine shrieks--in the field of women's sports. Perpetuated high C's, false beards, eye strain, the station wagon, odorous oxides, and racy rhetoric.

Upper right: Latest version of the toe dancer.

Lower right: Dwight Kier, Allan Hein, and La-Monte Hassell—the Three Trumpeteers are a special feature in concerts.

Uniformed in red capes and white trousers, the Hastings College Band was seen everywhere—marching between halves of football battles, leading the student body in down-town pep rallies, brightening the bleachers at basketball games, and occasionally even on the chapel platform, presenting brief but enjoyable concerts.

Forced to forego their usual tour, the student musicians directed by Mr. King put everything they had into preparations for the spring concert and made it an unparalleled success. The program included such difficult compositions as "Capriccio Espagnole" by Rimsky-Korsakoff, "Mignon Overture" by Thomas, "Voices of Spring" by Johann Strauss, "Slavonic Dance Number One" by Dvorak, and Rubenstein's "Kamenoi-Ostrow." One of the specialties was a piano number with band accompaniment; another, selections by the cornet trio.

In addition to providing the public with excellent entertainment and its members with training and enjoyment, the band serves as a laboratory for student conducting. Special attention is given to those majoring in instrumental music. While Mr. King was in Chicago completing work for his Bachelor of Music degree, Allan Hein took over the director's duties. The band's traditional role in the May Fete will conclude a memorable year of music making.

Concert Band--Berggren and Pfeiffer Were Tops

Choir-Success Was Theirs in Light Opera

Presentation of the colorful Gilbert and Sullivan light opera, "The Mikado," was the highlight of the college choir's activities for the year. Under the direction of Mr. Hayes M. Fuhr, the opera was given in Hastings and near-by towns May 10 to 17.

The cast included Laura Jane Jacobson as Yum Yum, Millard Cates as Nanki Pooh, Janice Lacey as Pitti-Sing, Ruth Theobald as Peep Bo, Rex Fisher as Pooh-Bah, John Berggren as Pish Tush, Georgia Whisinand as Katisha, Robert Newell as Ko-Ko, and Charles Anderson as the Mikado. A sixteen-piece orchestra played the accompaniment for the production.

The choir presented an all-Bach program the Sunday preceding Christmas vacation. Soloists were Ruth Theobald, Betty Hoch, Gordon Ohlsson, and Millard Cates. Music for the program was lent by the subsidized library of the American Association of Colleges. The choir sang also at the White Gift service.

On Good Friday the Presbyterian Church choir, which is directed by Mr. Fuhr and is made up of Hastings students, presented programs at the city auditorium and at the college chapel.

Symphony--Dr. Robbins Played 'Konzertstueck'

Under the direction of Mr. Louis Zerbe, the college-sponsored Hastings Civic Symphony presented two of its famed dime concerts this year. The first on December 11 featured compositions by Bach. Guest soloist was Mr. John Scott, college voice instructor.

Dr. Ralph Robbins, piano instructor, played the "Konzertstueck" with orchestral accompaniment at the second, April 30.

Twenty-six of the 70 musicians chosen for membership in the orchestra were Hastings College students and faculty members.

Theta Alpha Phi--Experienced in Three Fields

The membership of the Hastings chapter of Theta Alpha Phi, national honorary fraternity, consists of upperclassmen who have participated in the production of college plays. Experience in at least three of the possible fields—acting, directing, stage work, writing, and technical work—is required.

The year's activities included a chili supper for prospective members, a candle-light initiation service, a joint party with Pi Kappa Delta, and a trip to Kearney to see the Teachers' College production of "Our Town."

Theta Alpha Phi sponsored an original play contest in order to foster creative writing in the field of drama among Hastings College students.

Eleanor Sawtell was president for 1939-40. Other officers were Eleanor Smith, vice president; Alice Landis, secretary; Maree Brower, treasurer; and Margaret Brewster, historian. Miss Wynett Barnett was sponsor of the group.

Above: Eleanor Sawtell speaks to members of Theta Alpha Phi as follows: Miss Barnett, Margaret McCown, Margaret Brewster, Jack Barton, Alice Landis, Virginia Sonderegger, Lorraine Ernst-meyer, Rex Fisher. Others members are Maree Brower, Eleanor Smith, and Margaret Eloie. Inset: Students in make-up practice on themselves.

Below: Patricia Preston, Cecil Eloë, Marianna Fink, Donald Marsh, and Dorothy Walker converse in "The Kind Lady."

MORE THAN one-fifth of the students of Hastings College participate in dramatics. In addition to the two major productions in 1939-1940 the department contributed to at least 80 programs, including 21 one-act plays, numerous verse speaking programs, and public recitals.

Drama--Poison Potion and a Pound of Flesh

It is the policy of the dramatics department to present three types of plays, plays from classical dramatic literature, Shakespearean plays, and modern plays of value.

This year the modern play presented was "Kind Lady," a three-act melodrama adapted by Edward Chodorov from the story by Hugh Walpole. "Kind Lady" is the story of an aristocratic woman gradually surrounded by crooks who alienate her from her friends and attempt to convince her that she is insane. The cast of the intsenly interesting drama included Dorothy Walker as the kind lady and Cecil Eloë as the diabolically clever leader of the crooks.

Below: Alice Landis, Nerissa; Eleanor Sawtell, Portia; Keith Delap the Prince of Aragon; the servants and the caskets as seen in "The Merchant of Venice." The prince prepares to decide which casket he will select.

Right: R. Williamson, Salanio; Mehuron, Lorenzo; Connor, Antonio; Hanson, Salerina; Lambe, Gratiano; Yarnall, Bassanio. Lorenzo amuses the others.

ONE OF the most popular of all Hastings College productions, the Shakespearean drama "Romeo and Juliet," was presented in May, 1939. Five performances were given, including one complimentary to the high school students of nearby towns. The cast included Rex Fisher and Virginia Sonderegger in the title roles, Eleanor Sawtell as the nurse, Don Williamson as Mercutio, and Don Helzer as Peter.

The Shakespearean play selected for 1940 was "The Merchant of Venice." It was presented April 11, 12, 13, 15, and 16 in the Little Theater. Eleanor Sawtell took the part of Portia, and Dick Yarnall that of Bassanio. Jack Lamb was cast as Gratiano; Alice Landis, Nerissa; Dennison Conner, Antonio; Don Williamson, Shylock, and Maribel Hitchcock, Jessica.

Costumes were designed and constructed by the class in costuming, of which Miss Angeline Wood is instructor. Both "The Merchant of Venice" and "Romeo and Juliet" went on tour to other Nebraska towns.

Pi Kappa Delta--Six Years at the Top

The Hastings chapter of Pi Kappa Delta, national honorary forensic fraternity, is headed by Ben Rogge. Included in the membership are 18 varsity members, and the year's crop of freshman debaters swells the ranks to nearly thirty.

At the end of the year all members of the senior varsity are eligible for degrees of special distinction, the highest degree given to undergraduates in Pi Kappa Delta. The Hastings chapter is the only one in the nation that can claim the honor of having been at the top in national ranking for six years. Officers for 1939-40 are Ben Rogge, Jim Swanson, Margrette Smithberg, and Janice Shuler.

Debate--Ran Away with State Honors

Traveling 10,000 miles and engaging in 145 debates, the varsity and junior varsity debate squads made an enviable record this year. At Norman, Oklahoma, Hastings qualified for the finals of each individual event and placed in three. At St. Paul, debaters Swanson and Van Dyke were runners-up in a tournament that is unofficially the second largest in the United States.

At the state meet Hastings won all four divisions of the debate tournament and took first in the majority of individual events. Qualifying in quarter and semi-final contests in every event entered, Hastings debaters emerged from the national Pi Kappa Delta tournament at Knoxville with Margery Marsh third in women's extemporaneous speaking, Janice Shuler sixth in women's oratory, and Van Dyke eighth in men's oratory.

Radio Staff--Aired Their Lungs on 750

From the time that the theme song is played and a deep voice announces that Hastings College is on the air until the same voice says "Until next week at this time—" the college radio program provides good listening. Broadcast over KMMJ in Grand Island every Sunday afternoon at 2:30, the program gives students an opportunity to benefit from actual experience in radio work.

Outstanding singers, speakers, and instrumentalists from the student body and the faculty give freely of their time and talents during the school year to make the program a success. Charles Anderson was chief of staff the first semester, with Russell Van Dyke as news commentator, and Rex Fisher, Boyd Wood, and Dick Yarnall as announcers. At the beginning of the second semester Dick Yarnall was appointed to head the staff, and Boyd Wood became news commentator. Wayne Cockrell was chairman of the radio committee.

Estes Co-op--Took Horace Greeley's Advice

On June 7 ten young men and eighteen young women from Hastings College will take Horace Greeley's historic advice and go west—400 miles west, to Estes Park, Colorado, where they will worship, study, and play together at the regional YM-YW conference. All this will be possible because for nine months these Estes Co-op members have been working together selling candy and sponsoring dances.

YMCA--A Thousand Miles to Spread the Gospel

Featuring fellowship, service, and Christian living, the Young Men's Christian Association provides an opportunity for college men to meet weekly for study, discussion, and worship. Activities of the YM this year included the publication of the Student Directory, the signing of a peace petition, and the sponsoring of the Gospel Teams, which traveled more than 1,000 miles to towns in Nebraska and Kansas.

In conjunction with the YW, the YM sponsored several informal parties during registration week, the formal reception, the Thanksgiving breakfast, the Sunday afternoon vespers, and the appearance of Kirby Page. Officers were Bill Hansen, president; Tom Fuhr, vice president; Keith Delap, secretary; and Warren Reeves, treasurer.

YWCA--Candle Lighters Were They

Led by Eleanor "Smitty" Smith, national student YW president, members of the Hastings College YWCA did much in 1939-40 to promote Christian living, to build character, and to serve the school and community.

During the year the YW inaugurated a number of projects, including Sunday evening candlelight vesper services, publication of the bi-monthly paper, "Y's Sayings," a freshman cabinet to train new members for service, and a White Gift service in the Christmas season. With the YMCA, the YW assisted with the Week of Prayer, the formal reception, the Thanksgiving breakfast, Estes Co-op, and the Democracy Commission.

Officers were Eleanor Smith, president; Evelyn Adams, vice president; Margaret McCown, secretary, and Margaret Brewster, treasurer.

Pi Gamma Mu, national honorary social science fraternity, was organized to encourage the study of social questions in the light of scientific truth and by the scientific method. Of the twenty-six members of the local chapter, twenty are Hastings College students and faculty members.

Discussions of social topics were presented by guest speakers at the monthly meetings of the organization during 1939-40. In January, nine members were initiated in a formal ceremony. To qualify for membership, one must have 40 hours in the social sciences, with an average grade of B and no grade below C. The year's program closed with the spring banquet in May.

IN A YEAR that saw the outbreak of a second World War, students of Hastings College were guided in constructive work for peace by the International Relations Club. In October the club cooperated with the YM-YW Democracy Commission to bring to the campus Kirby Page, well-known author and lecturer. Other speakers presented by the organization included Mrs. David Simms, world-traveler, and Paul Newell of Grand Island, who reviewed the book "Union Now."

— 72 —

With up-to-date make-up, more pictures, and a new student-opinion column, the 1939-40 Hastings Collegian turned out more pages for student consumption this year than ever before. Ralph Jollensten and Dorothy Weyer were editors, with Tom Fuhr and Robert Newell as advertising managers. The scoop of the year was the announcement of the outcome of the election for Students' Association officers. From the bronco on the cover to the informal society section, this annual is streamlined. Page make-up using slanting and curved lines, an unusual number of large pictures, 12-point body type, division pages on the left, action shots for faculty and class sections, and numerous feature pages scattered about should be a pleasant surprise to readers accustomed to conventional yearbooks.

German Club--Musical Comedy Stole the Show

The German club was known chiefly this year for its highly successful presentation of the Schubert musical comedy, "Der Herr Doktor." The singspiel was presented twice to large crowds in the Little Theater, as well as to music-lovers in Grand Island and other nearby towns. Mrs. Ralph Robbins was director and Mrs. William Pfeiffer was accompanist.

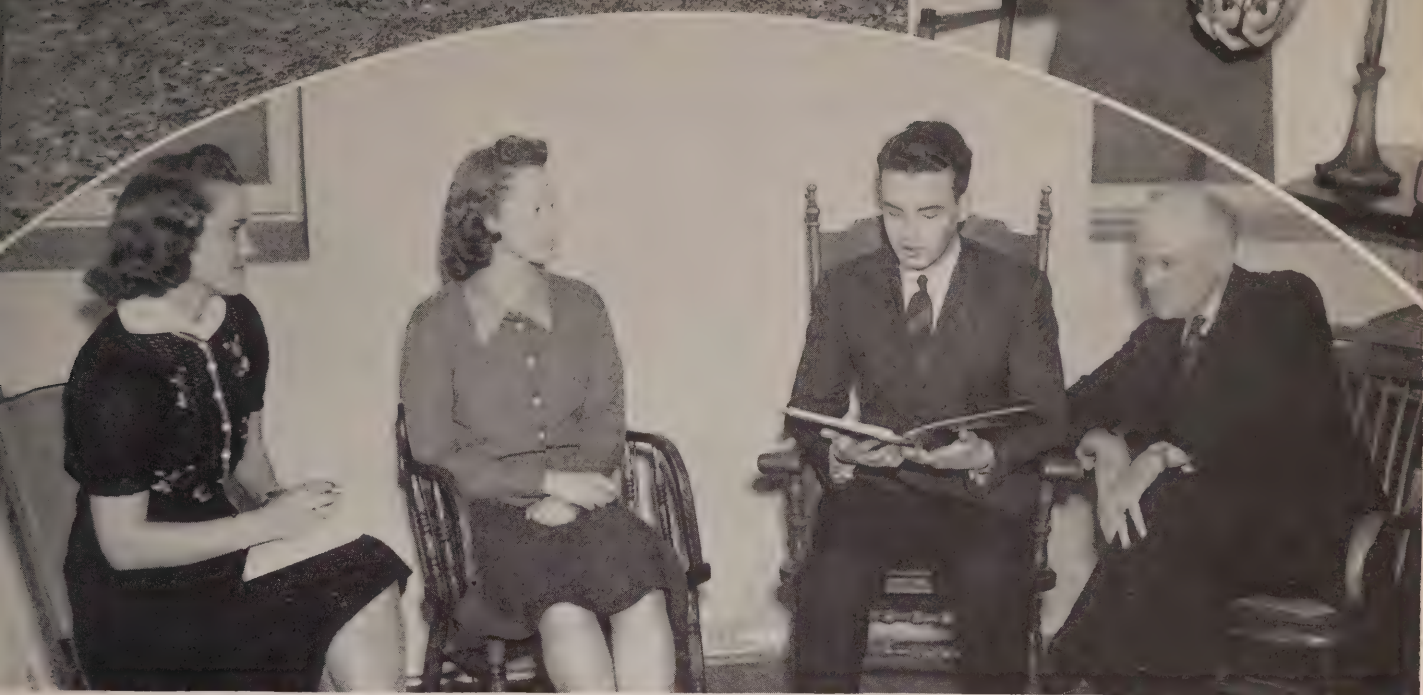

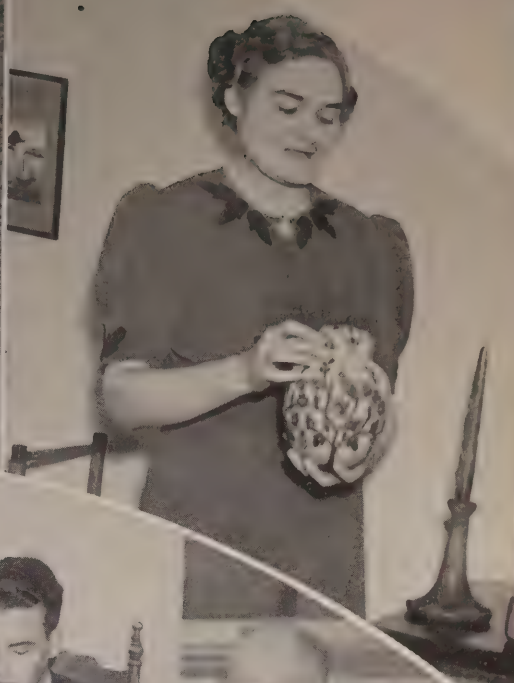

The year's calendar of events also included a picnic at Heartwell Park, with Dick Marvel as speaker. At the annual Christmas dinner programs illustrative of those presented in German schools were given by students.

To keep its members in close touch with the German viewpoint on current events, the club sponsored correspondence with German students. Miss Clara Altman, Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Robbins, and Dr. Joachim Stenzel are faculty sponsors of the group.

Spanish, French Clubs--Study Foreign Lands

On the first Monday evening of each month forty-four students meet to say "Bon Soir" and "Comment vous portez vous," and on the third Monday a similar group greet their sponsor with "Buenos Noches, Senor Dreps." The members of the French and Spanish clubs take time from their conjugations and translations once a month to enjoy programs dealing with foreign lands.

This year lectures were given by Dr.

Dreps, Lord Kaulili, Miss Altman, Mrs. Dreps, and Mrs. Robbins. At other meetings, colored pictures of French and Spanish scenes were shown.

Elvin Olson was president of the French Club. Other officers were Bette Walters, vice president, and Sarajane Kastrup, secretary-treasurer. The forty members of the Spanish club were headed by Glen Witzenburg, president; Franklin Scudder, vice president; and Norma Lindemann, secretary-treasurer.

Home Ec. Club--Daft About Dishe

These twenty-one girls are worth knowing for they, unlike the coeds of screen and novel, know more than what shade of rouge is most becoming; they can cook. In fact, these members of the Home Economics Club are authorities on all phases of home management.

The group meets twice each month for lectures and discussions. In December, club members gathered at the home of Jean Theobald for a taffy pull. Nine hours of home economics credit are required for membership. A student with six hours of credit may become an associate member.

Chemistry Club--Listened to a Doctor

If you have a scientific mind, a nose impervious to the odor of formaldehyde, and twelve hours of credit in chemistry, you are welcome to join the Chi Chi Club, honorary chemistry society. Members of the organization meet monthly for discussions, demonstrations, and lectures. Guest speakers this year included a laboratory technician, a psychiatrist, and a doctor.

Ambassadors--Named by a Scriptural Verse

From the scriptural verse, "Now then we are ambassadors for Christ, as though God did beseech you by us: We pray you in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God," the Ambassadors' Club derives its name. Members of this organization are Hastings College students who have dedicated their lives to Christ and have made the spreading of Christianity their purpose. Through prayer, study, and service they endeavor to deepen and express their fellowship with God.

Pastors of Hastings churches were guest speakers at several of the weekly meetings, and the group reciprocated by presenting Sunday evening services at the various churches. On November 12 the Ambassadors were in charge of the Hastings College Radio Hour.

Members were Limbertus Kingma, Lois Pysher, Lord Kaulili, John Akers, Isabell Ward, Larry Roumpf, Bill Goodell, Keith Elder, James Vail, Wilbur Nachtigall, George Nachtigall, Robert Beers, Raymond Knapp, Ray Gillham, Clayton Shotwell, Bill Dickerson, Wesley Biddle, Dennison Conner, Orin Graff, Elwin Clark, Jean Keister, and Merna Galer.

Action Shot of the Year in the Field of Sports

This was the first and probably the best sports shot that Cameraman Stuart Halsey took this season, from the standpoint of action. He pushed his synchronizer just at the moment Cley Richendifer caught a pass and made the first touchdown of the season in the game with Augustana. Halsey is responsible for all sports action shots found in this book.

Touchdowns for Victories over Doane, Peru

In the Homecoming game the Broncos moved to the top of NCAC competition, when they defeated Doane 7 to 0. They collected their only touchdown in the first 10 minutes of play. The touchdown road was paved by a 29-yard pass from Garrison to Nelson. The gain went to the Doane 10-yard line, and in three plays Garrison plunged over for the score. In the final minute of play Garrison skirted the Doane left tackle, reversed, and ran 49 yards to the Doane one-yard strip. A clipping penalty moved the ball back, and the game ended before the Broncos could score.

In the first afternoon game the Broncos put an end to Peru's winning streak, when they beat them 14 to 0. Peru made one serious bid when they moved to the six-yard line, but a fumble stopped the drive. For the score, Trupp passed to Little on the 6-yard line; a line plunge moved the ball to the 4-yard line, and Garrison shot through an open hole to score. With the wind to the Broncos' backs in the second quarter, Garrison lifted a punt over the goal. Two plays later a Peru fumble fell into Dutcher's hands on the 28. After moving the ball to the 13, Garrison circled left end, passed the line of scrimmage, cut back, and went over for a goal.

Broncos suffered a setback when they invaded Kansas. The Hays Teachers gave the Broncos a 14 to 0 licking with a swift-moving double wingback. Hays' touchdowns came in the second and third periods. Hastings' best showing followed the second-half kickoff, when the Redmen showed a flash of fire; but it burned out after three first downs, which moved the ball to the Tigers' 29-yard line. Passing failed to make the yards, and the Broncos were forced back.

Fumbles again heckled the Broncos. After a crackling first half in which neither team got close to the goal without fumbling, Garrison whipped a long pass to Trupp. Trupp took the pass on the 20 and sped across the goal. In the final period Green fired a perfect strike to Meader, who went over to tie the game.

Bronco Football Team Finishes with High Honors

Although the Broncos did not receive the NCAC crown in football, they did finish at the top of the group. In the conference they won three games, tied one, and lost none. Broncs Beat Augustanta

The Broncos opened the season with a 26 to 6 victory over Augustanta. The South Dakotans opened scoring when Hastings fumbled after the kickoff. The Broncos came back to score 14 points in the first quarter, 6 in the second, and 6 in the fourth.

IN THEIR first inter-conference game the Mac men lost to their old rivals, Kearney, 12 to 0. The Antelopes pushed Hastings down the field after the fumble took hold. Kearney moved 53 yards for the first touchdown in the closing minutes of the second quarter, scored on a fourth down with less than a minute to go. After the opening of the second half, Big Ben Taylor took a Bronco fumble on the Hastings 32 and pushed his way across. Cley Richendifer came out of the fray with a side injury. The vacancy gave freshmen ends a chance to shine.

Starting a revamped team, the Broncos defeated York's poorly manned eleven in the first conference game of the season 21 to 0. A 22-yard pass, from Jim Grant to Walter Nelson, started the Broncos goalward in the first quarter. Johnnie Warwick took the ball over from the 10. The second score started from the Bronco 41. Junior Mollring clicked off 17 yards, and Warren Garrison skipped around the end for 23. Garrison's line plunge moved the ball forward. In the third period the Broncos made their final score on Trupp's pass to Mollring.

Traveling to Wayne the next week, the Broncos gave the strong Teachers a trouncing, 14 to 0. Hastings touchdowns came in the second and fourth quarters, when they had the wind to their backs. Garrison led the way to both scores.

Pep Club Spurs Mac Men on to Victory

Serving as a nucleus of Bronco spirit, the college pep club is active on the campus all through the major-sports seasons. Members, garbed in newly-purchased costumes, participated in the Dad's and Mother's Day parade down Second street in the fall. By spending their afternoons on the playing field, pep club members prepared drills, which they performed at the home football games. When bonfires were to be built, when cheers were to be given, the pep club was there to do the job. Upholders of the Bronco spirit, these persons dressed in red and white helped account for Hastings victories that have become a tradition.

Mac Men Trim Wesleyan Thanksgiving Day

The Broncos made a new rival when they went to Springfield, Mo., to play the Missouri Teachers. Hastings put up a good fight, but lost the game 25 to 21, when the Tigers moved two scores ahead in the third period.

Broncos Win Basketball Championship

Another championship in basketball! Running through one of their most successful seasons since 1934, the Broncos tucked the NCAC championship away for the fourth time in the last seven years. They bowed once in conference play and that was to Doane, 1939 champions. Dick Marvel returned to the squad after a year's absence and led the conference by scoring 129 points.

The Broncos started the season with a trip to Wayne and Augustana and came home saddle-weary but saddle-wise. Wayne defeated the spirited Broncos 50 to 35, and Augustana rode them to defeat 57 to 35.

Refreshed by Christmas vacation, the Broncos put to use knowledge gained on their northern trip and beat the York Panthers in the first NCAC game, 55 to 44.

Encouraged by their success, the Broncos galloped over to Crete and trampled the Doane Tigers, 44 to 38. Bill Trupp sent the game into extra time with a basket in the final ten seconds. Six points in the overtime period gave Hastings its second NCAC victory.

Coach Harold Oakes, former Bronco assistant coach, went home humiliated with a 61 to 36 defeat when he brought his Antelopes to the Bronco corral.

Wayne was successful in leveling Hastings for the second interconference defeat, 49 to 47. A lively contest that might have brewed trouble was decided by a last-second field goal. As the timer's clock rang out the finish of the contest, a Wayne field goal tore through the net, giving the Teachers a winning margin.

Next came a blow from within the Broncos' own ranks. Bob Dutcher, veteran guard, was declared ineligible for the rest of the year, and Junior Molring, promising freshman forward, left school.

Richendifer Stars in Midland Game

The Broncos had a score to settle with Midland; accordingly, in a rough-and-tumble battle, marred by 41 fouls, Coach McCrady's cagers repelled the Warriors 49 to 42 at Fremont. Cley Richendifer tallied 14 points for the Broncos. The victory put Hastings in the conference race.

Two carloads of Broncos went to Peru, but met defeat 38-35. Their loss was due to their inability to sink free throws.

In three league games that followed, Hastings increased its lead. In the Nebraska-Wesleyan game, with a score of 50 to 53, Dick Marvel made his greatest triumph of the season by scoring 22 points.

The same week Hastings traveled to York and beat the Panthers a second time, 44 to 31, in a difficult tussle. Richendifer's defense was a work of art; he held Bud Feaster, consistently heavy scorer, to three points.

Hastings Gives Bobcats Their First Defeat

Doane handed the Broncos their initial league defeat, 49 to 47. Determined to win, both teams were exhausted after the grueling match that was settled by a last-minute field goal.

Another of these last-minute thrillers kept fans excited when Peru came to Hastings and suffered its first defeat of the season. Bill Trupp sank a free shot in an extra period for a 53 to 52 Bronco win.

Allan Hein led the Broncos to victory at Kearney, 39 to 27, but it was evident that Coach McCrady's chargers were not up to snuff.

It was a great day when Hastings became certain of a share in the NCAC championship by defeating the Midland Warriors 55 to 48. Jumbled scoresheets, numerous fouls, and an occasional minor flare-up indicated an exciting game. Marvel accounted for 19 points by scoring heavily from under the basket.

Headlines announced another championship as Hastings won the title outright by beating Nebraska Wesleyan 48 to 33. The Broncos trailed most of the first half, but found their stride in time to pile up sufficient points with some to spare.

Marvel Leads N.C.A.C. Conference Scoring

After winning the title, the Hastings Broncos journeyed to Springfield College in Missouri for a non-conference game. After traveling all day following the Wesleyan victory, they stepped from their automobiles into the court; Springfield showed surprising strength and won the Broncos' last game of the season, 46-30.

Dick Marvel led conference scoring with 129 points in eight conference games. For the season he scored 216 points. Cley Richendifer was second with 96 points in conference play and 144 points for the season.

Only three Bronco cagers will graduate. Regular players who will return next year are Cley Richendifer as center or forward; Jim Grant, forward; Hubert Wolfe, guard; Franklin Johnson, guard; Burt Cramer, center; Art Soundy, guard; Bob Marvel, forward; and James Ramsay, forward.

Trackmen Keep Winning Successive Titles

Just like Old Man River, the Bronco track titles keep rolling along. At the N.C.A.C. meet last spring the conference cindermen put in their best performances; when all scores were tallied, Hastings was victorious for the eleventh time.

Hastings won only four first places; but seconds, thirds, and fourths, garnered unexpectedly by underclassmen, furnished a wide margin. The Broncos scored in all events except the short sprints.

Jack Barton dashed around the oval eight times to win the two-mile run in 10:20.7; Paul Cross placed first in the mile run with a record of 4:37.9; Cley Richendifer leaped 6 feet 2 inches in the high jump for another first place; and Cecil Brubaker won the discus contest with a throw of 131 feet 11 inches.

High lights of the meet included an exhibition dash by Eileen Kealy, Cley Richendifer's javelin throw that lacked only one-quarter of an inch of tying for first place, and Ralph Jollensten's sprint to win second place in the two-mile run.

Tanksters Suffer Dearth of Competition

Since no nearby college seemed willing to schedule a meet with the Hastings swimming team this spring, the Bronco tank men spent a relatively dry year. Perhaps one reason for timidity on the part of possible opponents was the enviable record the Hastings team made in 1939.

Under the guidance of Harold Oakes, now serving the rival Antelopes at Kearney, Bronco tanksters floated 207 points to their opponents' water-logged 84. Among the scuttled teams were Kearney, Peru, and York.

Potential life guards who returned to school this year are Robert Creighton, Elwin Clark, Verne Magnuson, Harry Abbott, Jack Ray, and Chernock Smith.

Dowling Twins Win Doubles Championship

Perhaps the Dowlings' opponents thought they were seeing double! Whatever they thought, the fact is that Don and Phil Dowling, Bronco net men, won the NCAC doubles championship in tennis in 1939.

Before the conference meet, the Bronco tennis team experienced an unsettled season. Kearney bowed to Hastings twice. Hays and Hastings divided the count by taking a meet apiece. York was beaten in two encounters with the Bronco courtmen. Wesleyan, however, outplayed Coach Moulton's men both times they met, and the meet with Midland resulted in defeat for the Broncos.

In the NCAC championship meet at Fremont, the Dowlings were victorious in the doubles tournament; Hastings was third in the singles. Playing in the meet were Bob Jones, Dave McLaughlin, El Carol Greenwood, Harold McClelland, and the Dowlings. The contestants finished in the following order: Hastings, Midland, Wesleyan in the doubles; and Wesleyan, Midland, Hastings in the singles.

Lettermen for 1939 were the players mentioned above with the exception of McClelland. The college tennis tournament, which was begun last fall to determine the college champion and to select members for this year's team, was never completed. However, several promising newcomers reported for practice. Among them were Lord Kaulili and Verne Magnuson, who are among this year's first five men.

Golfers Are Victorious in N.C.A.C. Meet

Another NCAC championship has been added to the record of Hastings College. This one was earned by the 1939 Bronco golf team, composed of Cady Pyne, Bob Swanson, Ben Rogge, and Tom Fuhr.

In the championship match Fuhr made low score for the Broncos with 86; Pyne shot 89; Swanson's score was 90; and Rogge was high with 93. Individual honors went to Midland. Team scores were as follows: Hastings, 358; Doane, 364; Midland, 370; and York 94.

Jack Walters won the college tourney and automatically became captain of the Bronco golf squad for 1940. Pyne was captain of the team in 1939.

The team lost and won in the two encounters with Kearney, and made the same kind of record in the two meetings with Hays. The Bronco putters and drivers, however, were victorious in the meets with York and Midland.

In the victory over Kearney, Jack Walters turned in a medal score of 82 for 18 holes to take the victory. Elmer McKinney, state sand-green champion of 1936, was second with 83.

Inasmuch as all members of the 1939 team were underclassmen and all returned to school, the 1940 golf team has sufficient veterans to defend the conference crown.

Spring Festival Climaxes Girls' Sports Year

Athletically-inclined coeds on the Hastings campus find outlets for their energy in many and varied fields. The Women's Athletic Association sponsors the development of teams, also the development of individual sports. Membership is based on points earned by participation in WAA activities. Awards are emblems.

The most important event in the women's physical education department is the annual spring festival. For weeks preceding the affair the gymnasium is in use every minute by poised, light-footed girls practicing all sorts of rhythms. Shown in a dance movement, left to right, are Betty Waddill, Ruth Wennersten, Dorothy Auble, Bette Walters, Margaret Eloë, Evelyn Adams, and Dorothy Walker; Margaret Brewster is in the center.

Roberta Dickerson, Elane Wilcox, Patty Preston, Marjorie James, Olinda Herrmann, and Miriam Smith. They were chosen for playing ability and attendance at scheduled practices.

Third row, left: Hockey is the outstanding women's fall sport. Elane Wilcox was hockey manager this year. Freshmen won the annual class tournament. Right: Eleanor Smith retained her position as tennis champion by defeating Helen Frame in the finals. Frame was tennis manager, and "Smitty" had charge of ping-pong and badminton.

Frosh Win in Volleyball, Sophs in Badminton

With spring comes the ever-popular sport of softball. First row, left: Patty Preston shows how the girls make triple-base hits. Connie Ray demonstrates behind-the-plate technique. WAA practices are led by Roberta Dickerson.

Introduced several years ago, badminton is becoming more and more popular as a recreational activity for women on the campus. Right: Keeping the bird in the air in this game are Pauline Duncan, Marjory James, and June Stover. Tournaments for singles and doubles are held in the spring. The excellent combination of Virginia McNeel and Connie Ray made them the winners in the badminton doubles.

A few lively weeks of volleyball bridge the gap between the hockey season and the basketball season. The manager is Patty Preston. Large playing groups and many enthusiastic spectators, some of them of the stronger sex, throng the gymnasium on tournament nights. Freshmen won the class tournament; Sigs took the society contest. Winning places on the honorary varsity were Miriam Smith, Mary Jane Fuller, Dorothy Krieger, Geraldine Gillespie, Lola Toews, Connie Ray, Marjorie James, Patty Preston, Norma Lindemann, Bette Walters, Elaine Garrison, and Hilda Hermann. They are shown below in the midst of the game.

Alpha Phis Keep Basketball Championship

Basketball is one of the most popular sports among the women. In the interclass tournament the freshmen were the winners; in the society tournament the Alpha Phis retained their title by defeating the Thetas in the finals. Virginia McNeel was manager.

Basketball varsity team, chosen for playing ability and attendance at scheduled practices, consists of the following girls: Connie Ray, Miriam Smith, Helen Frame, Maree Brower, Dorothy Krieger, Virginia McNeel, Elane Wilcox, and Eleanor Smith.

Horseback riding is a most thrilling and smart pastime when one has time to recuperate afterwards. Ruth Wennersten, a novice at this sort of thing, seems a bit worried, whereas "Spooks Young," an old timer from a Wyoming ranch, watches her in amusement . . . Bicycle riding is considered much safer than horseback riding by the average coed. Pushing the pedals for the benefit of the photographer are Wilma Helen Andrews and Betty Farhnbruch . . . College mermaids do all their splashing in the YMCA pool. Freshmen were winners in the swimming meet held as a part of the Freshman Olympics. Passing tests in swimming and diving helps the girls to add WAA points to their records. Alice Landis has charge of swimming activities.

SOCIAL LIFE led students all over the world, from the South Pole to Hades, via Bellevue House. Consisted largely of dances, both formal and informal, which were fashioned with crepe paper to portray everything from the City of Oz to pineapples, a rainy day to sweethearts, and St. Patrick to Pinocchio. Featured in girls' societies Leap-Year parties and inter-society programs, including a style show, formal dinner, theater party, and musical reading by Mr. Fuhr. Exerted itself outside of Bellevue in hayrack rides, moonlight boating, sleighing parties, roller-skating bees, picnics, and all-night stags. Was brightened by flash bulbs as campus camera recorded unforgettable incidents.

Chi Psis started their year of activities on September 30 by joining with the Thetas for a picnic-dance. They initiated new members informally October 21, and formally a week later at a breakfast at the Carter Hotel. In November they served with the Thetas as co-hostesses for an all-society meeting, also gave their formal party with Pinocchio as their theme. In December freshmen members entertained the society, and in January the group paid homage to Old Man Winter by joining with the Sigs for a party. Outstanding events on the Chi Psi calendar were the formal dance on March 2 and the banquet on April 27.

Delts were the only society on the campus to have an elephant for mascot. They advertised a "bigger and better" society to prospective members by borrowing a circus elephant and bringing it to the campus. They entertained freshmen with a rush party in the gymnasium early in the year, entertained them with moving pictures and a basketball game. They initiated their new members November 8 and allowed the newcomers to put on the entertainment. They took Pi Alphas boating on romantic Crystal Lake on October 28, strolled through woods, and ate lunch before the fire. When they put on their best attire for their December formal, Bellevue was filled with Hawaiian music from strings of Lord Kaulili's guitar. They joined the Kaps March 1 for an informal party, used pineapples for their theme, and provided decorations that were good to eat. Jack Bennett gave a vivid, eye-rolling impersonation of Eddie Cantor and Al Jolson; the girls' trio, composed of Georgia Whisinand, Ruth Theobald, and Erdine Haddix, sang; Allan Hein played his cornet. Eta Phi Lambda---Began Year on a Bob Sled

Dear Claire,

I've enjoyed knowing you very much this year and being in harmony & sisterhood with you. It's been lots of fun. I'm glad that you and Willard are going to see this a swell fellow. Study hard this summer and I'll see you next fall. Have lots of fun, too.

Sincerely

Gordon.

Eta Phis went picnicking with the Alpha Phis to Crystal Lake for the first activity of the season. On October 6 they took their dates to Kearney to see the Bronco-Antelope tussle. Later in the same month they joined the Sigs, "followed the yellow brick road" and saw the "Wonderful Wizard of Oz." They initiated their new members informally on November 22 and formally two days later with a Thanksgiving party at Bellevue House. The new year began for them on January 12 in two old-fashioned bob sleds, one of which broke down, with the result that coeds had to walk. All warmed cold toes, however, by dancing in social room afterwards. For their March party, they made believe they were in the "Devil's Dungeon." On April 26 they led the other societies by being the first to hold their formal spring banquet in Bellevue House.

Kappa Rhos enjoyed a picnic at Crystal Lake early in September. On October 14 they were guests at a formal gathering at the home of President and Mrs. Creighton. They initiated newcomers informally on October 21 and formally at the Clarke Hotel early in November. Later in the month they joined the Alpha Phis for a party. New members gave a party for the others on December 6 and used the Christmas theme. They took advantage of the new year by having a Leap Year party on January 5; collegiate bachelors were pleased with the idea and enjoyed the frolic. In February the society joined with the Sigs for a sweetheart party, which was a gala affair. Two events of importance in the late spring were a picnic on April 20 and the formal banquet on May 11. On October 23 they tried to convince freshmen prospects to sign up with "Good Old Kappa Tau." Two weeks later they initiated new members in McCormick basement. They took dates to Bellevue for dancing on November 11 and repeated the procedure with the Alpha Phis December 9. For their party with the Delts at Bellevue on March 1, they used pineapples for decorations. They elected

Pi Alpha Lambda--Boated with Delts in Moonlight

Pi Alphas joined the Delts in opening the year's activities with a picnic on Crystal Lake early in the semester. During October the main interest was the accepting of new girls into the society. Both the informal and formal initiations were held in Bellevue; the first as a breakfast, and the latter as a dinner dance. The society entertained the Sigs and the Chi Psis on December 6, using a theme in keeping with the Yuletide spirit. Some days later they joined with the Kaps for a gala Christmas party in Bellevue, using elaborate decorations with a festive air. Early in March they joined the Thetas to celebrate the birthday of St. Patrick with a frolic in Bellevue. On May 24 they closed their year with a picnic at Crystal Lake.

Sigma Tau Sigma--Followed Yellow Brick Road

Sigs introduced their year of social events by a roller skating party in September with the Kaps. In October they joined the Eta Phis in a "Wizard of Oz" dance at Bellevue. Later in the month they introduced new members informally to their society at a slumber party in Clarke Hall. Their formal initiation took place in Bellevue House November 4 at a dinner, after which they joined the Thetas for a dance. New members of the society entertained others at the annual Christmas party in Bellevue. Sigs joined the Chi Psis in January for a "blizzard" party, and the Kappa Rhos in February for a sweetheart party. The final event of the year was the formal spring banquet on May 4 in Bellevue House.

Theta Psi Beta--Had a Night of Fun in Bellevue

Thetas began their society year September 30 by joining the Chi Psis for a picnic. In October they showed their patriotism by using an Alma Mater theme for their formal dance with the Tri Gams. They initiated their new members informally at a slumber party in the K. P. cabin on the Blue River on October 21, and formally at the Clarke Hotel a week later. With the Alpha Phis they celebrated Leap Year at a dance in Bellevue January 6. On March 6 they had a night of fun at Bellevue House, and on the 8th a dance with Pi Alphas. Their spring banquet was May 3, and they closed their year two weeks later with installation of new officers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fuhr.

Serve as Places for Rest, Study, Social Activity

Places of ceaseless activity, the four Hastings College dormitories furnish havens of rest for some, places to study for others, and centers of social activity for many. Although all dormitories hold Open House at least once a year, Taylor leads the list.

Top: Ringland Hall men spend a quiet evening of meditation in their lounge.

DOWNTOWN--Was the location of the most universally enjoyed non-college sponsored activity, as students walked, hitch-hiked, and rode the bus to shop for things to eat, wear, give, hang, play, look at, and chew. Caused afternoon, after-class trek that suggested good old days of the Oregon and the Sante Fe'. Was bare of the usual ten or fifteen students on the "main drag" only during vacation, class periods, and exams. Profited from collegiate business, while merchants reciprocated by buying program tickets and giving students jobs. Portrayed in the following section, which, spiced with snapshots, should bring memories of window shopping jaunts, give incentives for future purchases with college supporters.

Only a diamond will do

There come occasions in the course of life when gratification and happiness are so profound that adequate expression becomes difficult. These are times when the deathless fire of a diamond can convey the emotions that defy speech.

The gems you choose for these spokesmen should be worthy of their mission. You can make sure of this by purchasing them only from a jeweler of unquestioned integrity.

We shall gladly help you in the selection of a stone for any occasion . . . shall gladly explain the four important qualities which determine the worth of any diamond.
